IRELAND.

Record of the Most Important of the Recent Events Culled From Exchanges.

The Executive Council of the Cork International Exposition are arranging for an exhibition by Santos Dumont of his flying machine before he comes to the St. Louis Exposition.

Lord O'Brien has received a letter from the Lord Lieutenant inclosing a subscription of $100 toward the expenses of the international boat race to be rowed at Cork next July.

At the United Irish League convention in South Monaghan John McKean, of Kingstown, was selected as the national candidate in succession to James Daly, who has retired from Parliament.

At a meeting of the Irish party, John E. Redmond presiding, resolutions were passed expressing admiration of the conduct of the M. P.'s and other coercion victims, and cordially welcoming Conor O'Kelly on his release from jail.

Conor O'Kelly, M. P., was released from Castlebar jail, where he had been imprisoned for a month under the crimes act. John O'Donnell, M. P., reached Sligo on Monday to undergo a term of imprisonment under the same act.

At Mullingar two soldiers of the West Riding regiment, named Worth and Godwin, were remanded, charged with having maliciously broken the window of Mrs. O'Sullivan's jewelry establishment in Greville street and stolen therefrom a quantity of jewelry.

Two boys, named Foley and Haynes, were drowned while skating on the river at Sligo. John White made heroic efforts to save them, but was himself immersed in thirty feet of water and with difficulty got out with ropes, after being in the water twenty minutes.

At Callan, County Kilkenny, J. P. Walsh, Secretary of the local branch of the United Irish League, was returned for trial under the Whiteboy acts. The principal witness against the accused was a Sergeant Sheridan, who admitted that he lied to the accused in order to obtain his signature.

A man named John McGarry, aged sixty-five, was shockingly burned in his house at Ballynichol, near Portaferry, the dwelling being also consumed. Upon the police effecting an entrance his dead body was found in a corner, one leg being completely burned and the other burned off at the knee. It is surmised he fell asleep, leaving a lighted candle near his bed, which ignited the bedding.

Before Justice Johnson and a city common jury the case of Cullen vs. Reilly was heard. The plaintiff, Miss Alice Cullen, who resides with her brother, who is a farmer near Edgeworthstown, claimed $2,500 damages for alleged breach of promise of marriage from Thomas Reilly, a farmer residing near Streete, County Westmeath. The jury awarded the plaintiff $100 damages.

A sad coincidence occurred at Cliftonville, near Limerick. A gentleman named Harris Seymour, aged eighty-six, and his sister Kate, seventy-six, had been in ill health for some time. The sister was unceasing in her attention to her brother, and it is said, expressed a wish that she might die before him. She passed away at 9:14, and her brother six minutes later. He was a gentleman of means, and led a retired life for thirty years.

On Monday the dead body of a young woman was found on the strand between Muckross and the Island, a few miles to the south of Clonakilty. Information having been given to the police, Acting-Sergeant Boyle and Constable Jones went to the scene, with the workhouse officials and a coffin, and had the body removed to the Clonakilty Courthouse. The remains have been identified as those of a young woman, Kate McCarthy, daughter

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing the Past Week—General News Notes.

Division 1 of New Haven, Conn., will observe its thirtieth anniversary on March 17.

Division 17 of Roxbury, Mass., worked the four degrees of the new ritual on ten candidates last Sunday.

Division 1 of Duluth celebrated the initiation of three new members with an enjoyable social session and smoker.

Division 1 and the Ladies' Auxiliary of St. Paul will give their annual joint card party and ball at Elks' Hall on Easter Monday.

Hon. John A. Sullivan will lecture under the patronage of Division 50 of Boston in Knights of St. Rose Hall on St. Patrick's night.

The division at Stillwater, Minn., will celebrate St. Patrick's day at the Grand Opera House with the five-act play, "A Daughter of Erin."

Division 3 of St. Paul paid out $129.32 benefits at its last regular meeting. Think of this, you who are not members of this great organization of Irish Catholics.

The Standard says Division 10 of St. Paul has now the finest initiation outfit in the great West, and the division of young men is coming to the front by leaps and bounds.

The Hibernians of Providence, R. I., have made extensive preparations for the observance of St. Patrick's day. The celebration will be the greatest ever witnessed in Rhode Island.

State Senator Thomas H. Dowd will lecture on "St. Patrick and the Blessings That Have Resulted From His Labors in Ireland," for Division 52 of Boston in Kossuth Hall on Sunday, March 16.

Among the prominent Hibernians of Ohio is John Deasy, of Cincinnati. He has been a member of the order for over thirty-three years. He is now a County President and was for years President of Division 1.

The Hibernians of Worcester will not have a parade on St. Patrick's day. The celebration of the festival of Ireland's patron saint will be confined to a lecture by Rev. Father John O'Brien in the evening at Mechanic's Hall.

In celebration of the anniversary of Robert Emmet the second and third degrees were conferred upon forty-nine members at Milwaukee last Monday evening. The initiation was followed by addresses appropriate to the day.

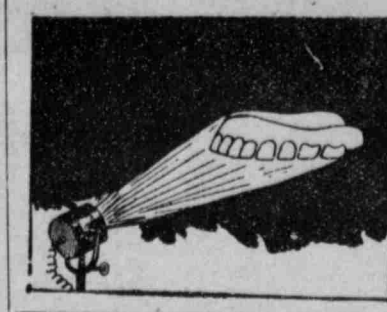

Springfield Hibernians propose to follow the example of their Worcester brethren and have their own building. Division 6 has appointed a committee with full power to purchase a suitable site between Arch and State streets. The location will most likely be in Main street.

Milwaukee Hibernians will celebrate St. Patrick's day at the Pabst Theater. The principal address will be delivered by Judge M. J. Wade, of Iowa City, who made such a fine impression at the Columbian Catholic summer school. In addition there will be an elaborate musical and literary programme.

The eight divisions of Minneapolis honored the memory of Ireland's illustrious young martyr, Robert Emmet, with the grandest celebration in the history of the Irish people of that city. The Catholic clergy, State and county officers and prominent citizens occupied seats on the platform and the Ladies' Auxiliary the boxes of the Lyceum Theater, where the exercises took place Tuesday night. American and Irish colors decorated the theater and nothing was left undone to fill the hearts of the descendants of the Gael with patriotism. Addresses were delivered by Hon. T. R. Kane, of St. Paul, and Rev. James O'Reilly. The opening chorus, "Columbia," and "God Save Ireland," were excellently rendered by the parish school children.

JEFFERSONVILLE.

Politics are warming up over the river rather early this year. Among the names most mentioned for office are those of Messrs. Redmond Stanton and James Dougherty, whom their Democratic friends would like to see nominated for City Treasurer of Jeffersonville. Mr. Stanton has for years been with the Kentucky & Indiana Bridge Company and is very popular with the masses of the working people, while Mr. Dougherty is recognized as one of the leading merchants and a man of the strictest integrity. Either would make a strong candidate, though the latter may decline to make the race because of the requirements of his business.
